QUICK NOTE

The new Clans don't believe in Starclan.
They have Moonclan

SO leader will be called 'Moon' instead of 'Star'

Example-

STARclan = BlackSTAR
MOONclan = BlackMOON

Get it c: enjoy the story

Chapter 1

Featherkit felt something heavy on her, she opened her eyes to see Lionkit on top of her "you sleep a lot" he said. Featherkit yawned "Im sorry". Lionkit jumped off her and smiled "Cmon, were going to the apprentice den!". Featherkit sprang to her paws and ran out first "Im gonna beat you!".

The two kits ran to the apprentice den. Stumbling on there paws as a apprentice walked out. "EEP!" Featherkit yelpped as she looked up at the appreciate. Grasspaw, the medicine cat apprentice looked down at the kits "What are you doing?"

The two kits looked at Grasspaw, she was a lot older then themselfves. "We wanted to explore, that's all!" Lionkit said as Featherkit stayed quiet and looked at her brother.

The appreciate looked around as she looked at the kits "listen, how about I take you on a tour of the territory, Then when your apprentices, you'll know everything about the areas?". Lionkit just happily and agreed. Featherkit nodded, she always wanted to see the territory and the other clans.

"But you must promise, stick with me always- I don't want to be caught-" Grasspaw said. The two nodded as she lead them to the exit of the clan.

Chapter 2

Grasspaw walked with the two kits. Featherkit looked around hearing rustlling. She tensed up as she looked at Grasspaw. "Show yourself! We know your here!". Lionkit hissed and Featherkit took a step back as a cat came out of the bushes. Others followed.

"You don't smell like clan cats..." Grasspaw said. One of them whispered "The feather and The lion will open new roots" as they retreated into the bushes and vanished.

Featherkit looked concerned, turning her head towards Greenpaw; who looked down in a pondering state. "Greenpaw are you okay?" Lionkit asked before she nodded "Yeah I'm fine, let's get back to camp". She nudged the two kits back to camp.

Featherkit looked at her mother. Tigefur was grooming Lionkit before asking "Where were you two?" She asked. Lionkit didn't say anything as Featherkit's ears perked up "Playing!" She said putting her two fore paws together.

Tigerfur looked at her kit "Alright.. If you say so"

Chapter 3

Feartherkit woke up to a empty nursery, She got up slowly "...Lionkit?". Featherkit walked out the burrow of brambles into the camp.

Empty.

Featherkit's fur raised in fear as she saw a cat walk forward. "Don't be afriad little one" The cat said. Featherkit stared "A-Are you a StarClan cat?".

The cat shook his head "No.. I come from MoonClan". She blinked in confusion MoonClan? Where is that?" She thought as the starry tom spoke again "I'm Spottedmoon, SunClan's old leader" he said. "SunClan?" Featherkit asked.

"There isn't much time.. I came to tell you something important" Spottedmoon said looking at the thorny bush that was the exit to the clan "Four new clans, will walk in, the feather and the lion will open new roots, and the eight clans will bleed into the river"

∼∼∼∼∼∼*

Featherkit woke up in a jolt as Lionkit was in front of her "Hurry up! Were about to be come apprentices!!!".

"Let all cats old enough to catch their own pretty join here beneath the Clanrock for a meeting!" Weedstar yowled. Cats surrounded by the rock.

Tigerfur licked her two kits "This a big moment, I'm proud of you both". Weedstar looked around at the cats and began to speak "Cats of PrairieClan, today is a important day for two kits". Lionkit was ready to sprint over, but Tigerfur hold him back.

"Lionkit come forth" Weedstar said as Lionkit walked towards his father. "Dogfang" He meowed "You have been a faithful and strong warrior, even for a half-clan, I trust you that you will be able to train Lionpaw the ways of the warrior code". Lionpaw turned to look at his mentor as he gave a excited jump.

"Featherkit come forth". Featherkit walked over to the clearing, nervously. "Whiterain" He mewed "You have been a loyal warrior ever since we were first warriors, I believe that you would be a great mentor for Featherpaw".

Featherpaw looked at Whiterain in glee "its great meeting you!". Weedstar turned to leave "the meeting is over".

Chapter 4

Featherpaw was excited. She had forgotten all about her dream as she looked at Whiterain "What do we do first!?". Whiterain looked at Featherpaw "A tour".
The two apprentices looked at each other in excitement.

The four walked out the camp.
Featherpaw saw as they walked to a stream. "This is the border to Fireclan" Whiterain hissed. Recently, Fireclan and Prairieclan aren't in good relationship with each other. A Fireclan boarder patrol.

Hollytear; the deputy had her eyes daggered towards Featherpaw, made her feel frightened.

Next to her, a small tom stood their quietly. "Blackenpaw.. Go get our leader". The small tom looked at Hollytear before running back to the camp.

"What is this nonsense?!" Dogfang commanded, slamming his forepaw down on the dirt, making some dust appear. Lionpaw and Featherpaw looked tense before Whiterain looked at them.

" Go back to camp , get help .. NOW "

Chapter 5

Featherpaw ran in camp. The she-cat was terrified. "Weedstar!". The leader looked as his kit ran to him terrified "Fireclan is attacking!!".

The leader snarled "thank you for telling me" He turned around to call for warriors and fully experience apprentices.

"Sunstream, Leafclaw, Redflower! Come with me, bring Silverpaw and Hollypaw! This will be there final apprentice test!" Weedstar said as his fur bristled.

Lionpaw ran in behind Featherpaw "Hurry! They are almost here!".

Tigerfur ran up to her mate "I'm going with you!". Featherpaw could tell the worry that clouded Weedstar's eyes. But he nodded in agreement as the group ran out camp.

Featherpaw and Lionpaw stood there, neither could believe all of this is happening.

The two young apprentices turned and sulked near the Apprentice's den, when Hazelstar padded to them.

"Ah! Hazelstar.." Featherpaw looked at the blind leader. The she-cat shook her head "I'm no longer a leader.. Hazelflight is my name now". The gray she-cat nodded and sat down as her brother did too.

"I know you are worried about your father.. But I believe he is stronger then he looks" Hazelflight mewed looking at the direction on the camp entrance. Featherpaw looked at the older leader, she looked in awe. "He has a lot of hidden potential.. That's why he is leader.. I'm glad I'm still alive to see him and my clan".

Lionpaw looked at Featherpaw. Featherpaw nodded slowly, it was true, he father would be just fine.

Chapter 6

Featherpaw laid down in relief as Hazelflight padded to the elder's den. Lionpaw had fallen asleep, Featherpaw looked at the camp entrance.

Weedstar; along with the rest of the group of cats padded in. Tigerfur had some scratches in her pelt, but that was it. Sunstream limped beside Hollypaw, both injured, but not badly. Silverpaw walked next to Leafclaw and Redflower, the three were proud. Whiterain limped in from behind, badly injured, Dogfang was leading her to the medicine cat's den.

Cat roamed around them. Featherpaw pushed her way through the cats. "Weedstar! Is everything okay?" She asked with a frightened tone. The leader nodded "Fireclan was defeated, the retreated..".

Tigerfur snarled "They will still keep attacking! What if they attack the camp!? We have queens and kits to protect". Weedstar nuzzled his mate before leading her to the medicine cat's den.

Lionpaw and Featherpaw sat outside the medicine cat's den. Dear Starclan! What if Whiterain dies? Featherpaw thought. She shook her head That is mouse-brain! She can't die.. Not now Featherpaw looked in the medicine cat's den.

Whiterain laid in the nest. Her pelt was still bristled. Reedwhisker was placing cobwebs on her wounds. Grasspaw asked the warrior to eat the Poppy seeds.

It felt like a thorn stabbed her in the heart, Featherpaw turned away from the Medicine Cat's den as Dogfang padded to them "Follow me, we never finished the tour...".

Chapter 7

Featherpaw bounced on the rocks near Gathering. She sniffed the air, on the other side, it was filled with Dawnclan scent. The she-cat looked back at Dogfang who had Lionpaw next to him.

"Be careful!" Dogfang called out as Featherpaw nodded. Her head turned to the Dawnclan Territory, it looked cool, winds blowing on the grass made it look like a ocean. The mountains in the distance casted a shadow over that area.

She never knew how beautiful the mountains looked. She jumped back down looking at Dogfang "The mountains near Dawnclan, who lives there?".

Dogfang looked over at her "PebbleClan" he answered. Featherpaw nodded as they walked back to camp.

Featherpaw peaked in the Medicine Cat's den. Whiterain was awake, he wounds were almost gone. Reedwhisker was talking to her, the two she-cats had a short conversation until Whiterain got up and walked to Featherpaw.

"How are you! Do you feel better?!" Mewed the apprentice, worried about her mentor. Whiterain nodded "I'm glad to have you as a apprentice.." She mewed, limping to the warriors den.

Featherpaw took a deep breath before walking into the apprentice den and laying down on her nest.

Chapter 8

Featherpaw looked outside of den. It was storming, the rain scares the prey away.

Her ears laid flat on her head as the loud booming noise cracked in the sky. Her fur bristled as her brother nuzzled her.

The rain was still pouring as cats walked out the dens "Wake up!" Yelled one of them.

The apprentices yawned as they crawled out the den. Featherpaw looked around as the whole camp was  soaked.

"What's going on?" Tigerfur asked. Weedstar looked over at his mate "a kit has been taken!". Cats yowled, some stayed quiet but shocked.

Bumblestomp looked sad as she looked at her kits "Bloodkit, he's gone..". Blackpaw looked at Bumblestomp "what did the cat look like?!"

Lionpaw and Featherpaw looked around, thier vision was haze as they see a large cat, sneeking in the nursery, taking a kit and running off"

Lionpaw jumped up "We know where they went!".
